WAR ON THE BROKERS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.

Assessor Webster's great raid on Brokers for failing to make returns on bonded capital invested in business formally closed yesterday. The result is about one hundred firms have been fined to the aggregate extent of $70,000, whereof $20,000 goes to the assessor. The Sun says having disposed of the small fry operators on the street, he will now begin war upon the great foreign bankers. This class have not paid any tax whatever on the capital in active use, though it is known they transact business amounting in the aggregate to hundreds of millions of dollars in a year.—The legal papers and returns necessary to institute proceedings against these bankers are in preparation, and are to be filed next week. Mr. Bergh appeared before Justice Buckley in Brooklyn City Hall yesterday afternoon, and prepared complaints against a number of owners of cows in swill milk stables. Warrants were granted for the arrest of the persons accused who were subsequently taken into custody by officer Barr. They were each admitted to bail in $200 to appear for examination on the 12th inst.

Porto Rico, Jan. 13. The Barcelona, the Spanish Mail Steamer running from Havana to this and other ports, came into the harbor a few days ago literally covered with flags on account of the good news at Havana that Cespedes and 3000 men had surrendered to the Spanish Generals. Capt. Gen. Sanz has induced more than 500 inhabitants of Cognes to sign a petition praising his administration of affairs, and asking Regent Serrano to continue him in command. This petition will be followed by a protest against the intimidation resorted to by Sanz in order to procure the signatures of Porto Ricans.

NEW YORK SOCIETY.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.

Two scoundrels assisted by a couple of hundred thieves and murderers mashed each other for an hour and a half near the palisade yesterday. Dempsey, the favorite with the Betting men, was badly beaten, and when the referee, E. Jerry Mulligan, of the 1st ward, announced the result of the fight, the mob drew knives and pistols and began an indiscriminate battle among themselves. Several men were badly wounded, and the whole party returned to the metropolis breathing mutual vengeance towards each other. No arrests were made.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.

THE EIGHT HOUR SYSTEM.

The advocates of the eight hour system are somewhat troubled by the action of the Senate yesterday on the amendment offered to the naval appropriation bill by Mr. Morrill of Vermont.

An Amendment offered by Mr. Morrill of Maine reads thus: Provided, That the money so appropriated shall be expended only for the purpose of providing materials, carrying on the work and paying the employees of the Bureaus for which it is appropriated, and the appropriation hereby made shall be for the current fiscal year.

Mr. Morrill of Vermont moved to add to this, these words, "at no higher rate of wages than is paid for like services as to time and amount by private citizens in the respective localities."

On this the yeas and nays were demanded and the vote was, yeas 29, nays 22.

It is evident that a majority of the Senate do not agree with Judge Hoar in his construction of the eight-hour law, but in the House there is a large majority in favor of it.

REDUCTION OF AMERICAN TONNAGE.

The Select Committee on the Causes of the Reduction of American Tonnage have accumulated an immense amount of information from officials at home and abroad, from which they cannot fail to prepare an able report, replete with suggestive information. Even the tonnage armament of the vessels in the British and American navies has been obtained, with interesting facts about the building of men-of-war at home and abroad. General Walker, Director of the Bureau of Statistics, has furnished the Committee with statements of the mercantile tonnage of the United States, which foots up as follows: Sailing vessels, 19,745; tons, 207,484,109; steam vessels, 3361; tons, 104,601,598; unrigged 6287; tons, 62,-349,202. Total number of vessels permanently documented, 26,393; tons, 374,431,909. Temporary vessels, 1033; tons, 40,104,690. Only about one-third or one-half of the temporary tonnage should be added to the permanent to get the real tonnage of the country. In the reports of the Registry of the Treasury the temporary is added, which swells the amount far beyond the actual tonnage of the country.

REDUCTION OF INTEREST ON THE PUBLIC DEBT.

A statement of the amount of unregistered coupons paid during the first six months of the present fiscal year, has just been made out by the United States Treasurer, for the purpose of showing the actual reduction of the interest on the public debt, and will hereafter be incorporated in the monthly debt statement. The amount paid from July 1 to December 31, 1869, was $37,990.97.

CONTRIBUTION TOWARD THE EXTINCTION OF THE NATIONAL DEBT.

A citizen of Boston has just contributed ten cents toward the extinction of the national debt. The smallest amount received this year was two cents. It is a fact, perhaps not generally known, that every cent so contributed is scrupulously entered upon the books of the United States Treasury and placed to the credit of the fund designated.

A LADY KILLED WHILE SITTING IN HER ROOM SURROUNDED BY HER CHILDREN. A most terrible and diabolical murder occurred on Thursday week before last in Brunswick county, Virginia, the unfortunate victim being Mrs. Rawlings, wife of Bassett Rawlings. The circumstances of the murder are thus narrated: About seven o'clock on Thursday night, while Mrs. Rawlings was sitting in front of the fire in her room, with some of her children sitting near her, a shot was fired from an unseen hand through a window in the rear of Mrs. Rawlings, the whole load (slugs) taking effect just below the shoulder of the unfortunate victim, killing her almost instantly. The murderer made his escape without being seen. Mr. Rawlings arrived at home from court, where he had been attending through the day, a little while after the occurrence, to find his wife a corpse and his motherless children weeping over the dead. Suspicion rests on one Harrison Hammcok, a negro, who had made certain threats because his wife had recently been discharged from the service of the family.

We find the following in the Bath Times:

"We understand that the joint standing committee in the Legislature on the liquor law will shortly report a bill making it mandatory on police officers and constables to enforce the prohibitory law, and that Hon. T. S. Lang who is chairman of the committee on the part of the Senate, will make a vigorous speech in support of the measure. This bill we are informed will be reported unanimously from the committee. Such a bill cannot fail to fully meet the views of all temperance men. Mr. Lang's speech will be looked for with much interest, as in the Auburn convention, Mr. Joshua Nye took the occasion to define the Kennebec Senator's temperance position by declaring that he not only favored prohibition but was in favor of a State police. Whether Mr. Nye will be obliged to eat his words remains to be seen, when Mr. Lang speaks for himself."

The Savannah Republican reports that complaints of a lack of sufficient force to carry on the plantation interests the present year come from every part of Georgia. It says many of the negroes have died; very many flocked to the railroads now building; the towns have absorbed a good share; some have hired or bought lands and gone to work on their own account, and the women, as a general rule, have wholly deserted the fields.

JOHN H. LYNDE, - - PROPRIETOR

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1870

The Aroostook Times having had the fairness to give our points of objection to the Bangor & Houlton Railroad as against the Northern Aroostook, still fails to credit us with saying that if confident in the genuineness of their scheme the Whig would not object to their charter. However, a favorable point is at last gained towards an understanding, and one more suggestion may put the true position beyond cavil. The Times professes that it has as good reason for little confidence that the corporators of the Northern Aroostook Railroad will build as we have that those of the Bangor & Houlton Railroad mean business. We only know this, that the most urgent friends of the Houlton Road in this vicinity have always voted and declared themselves against all city and town aid for any railroad, while, on the contrary, the friends of the Northern Aroostook Road have been among the most earnest advocates for such railroads into the interior. The Times very well knows that no railroad can be built into Aroostook without such aid, and even here the conclusion is quite obvious—Add to this the fact that several of the corporators of the Northern Aroostook Railroad are already heavily interested in Railroads and their extension, and that other significant fact that all of them have earnestly advocated an Aroostook Railroad, and still another, that some of the corporators of the Houlton Road have directly discouraged such schemes in various ways—and can the Times find fault at our decision? All reasonable evidence favors the genuineness of the Northern Aroostook Road as against the Houlton.

It is understood that a public hearing will be had in a few days, before the proper committee of the Legislature, on the subject of "Consolidation." It cannot be denied that there is a general feeling, largely the result of prejudice probably, against this measure, but its friends urge, and with good reason, that the question should not be definitely settled, without a full hearing, wherein its merits can be fully discussed. If our Legislature, not being willing to condemn unheard, give the friends of "Consolidation" an opportunity to present their case, and make argument upon its merits, before decision, it would seem that our City Council, which has ventured to speak in the name of our city, and to pass a vote requesting our Representatives to vote against the measure, cannot very well do less. The friends of "Consolidation" urge that they have substantial arguments to advance in favor of that principle, and they contend that its success is intimately and vitally connected with the welfare of this section of the State. We hope that our City Council which meets to night, will reconsider their recent action so far as to bring the "order" before them again, and then refer the whole subject to a "joint special committee," with instructions to have a public hearing. Such a course is manifestly fair, and cannot do any wrong to either side in the controversy, while it will strengthen whatever conclusion may be reached.

By some unaccountable means the following paragraph crept into the Whig of Saturday:

'Mack' writes that it costs twice as much to collect four millions of revenue at New Orleans under Mr Grant's brother-in-law as it costs to collect seventeen millions at Boston.

This "Mack" is a reckless professional blackguard who picks up slanderous gossip in Washington and retails it in a Cincinnati paper. In fact, he gains a living, as does Brick Pomeroy, from the ingenuity with which he can blacken whiter characters than his own. The bare statement here given may be true, but he conceals other facts, which are injurious to none except the adherents of the Democratic party. In the South, as in every other section where Democracy makes up a good portion of the tax paying population, it costs many times more to collect taxes than elsewhere. In some parts of the South the revenue officers have had to call in the aid of the military. The party of rebellion and repudiation is not apt to pay its taxes voluntarily, and it will take a good many "Macks" to shift the onus of this expense upon honest men.

Is this session of the Legislature a mere extended holiday? The Kennebec Journal says:

"The hearing before the Temperance Committee appointed for last evening, was postponed on account of the soiree at Granite Hall."

If the Legislature waits on every soiree that Augusta maintains, and goes out of town whenever there is no special social soiree there, how much business can it accomplish? Put it on the basis of private business. How many members would postpone for "soirees" any business appointment that involved an expense of several hundred dollars? The crop is not growing till the ground is cultivated and planted, and the ground seems scarcely yet broken.

A dispatch from St. Paul says the mail has just arrived from Red River, bringing the last number of the "New Nation," the organ of the insurgents and correspondence, neither of which make any mention of the reported arrest of Rielle, the insurgent leader, by the Hudson Bay Company. On the contrary, a letter dated Winnepeg, Jan. 30, says the opposition portion of the French party have all gone over to Rielle, and now want to vest him with supreme power. It is thought that the Convention which is called to meet on the 25th, will end in making him full master of the situation, and stronger than ever. Rielle proposes then to employ all his power and resources to carry out the programme of his adherents, which is anti-Canadian to the last.

The new tariff bill introduced in Congress and which will come up for discussion next week, embraces about 4000 articles. Among the changes are flour, on which the duty is fixed at one-half cent per pound, corn meal the same, oat meal one-half cent, molasses from sugar cane 5 cents per gallon, sawed boards, plank, deals and other lumber of spruce, hemlock, whitewood and basswood one dollar per thousand feet, board measure on all timber not otherwise provided for, one cent per cubic foot. The duty on coffee is cut down from five to four cents, and on tea from twenty-five to twenty cents.

There is a remarkable clerical scandal reported in the Philadelphia papers of a delinquent Catholic priest, name unknown, and the victim of his wiles, Miss Louisia Dober, who suddenly and mysteriously disappeared. A letter from Miss Dober states that she is confined in the cell of a Catholic Church and that she is to be sent to a nunnery in Milwaukee. The affair creates much excitement in religious circles in the Quaker City.

Reddy, the blacksmith, the telegraph now reports, is not dead. On the contrary, he has sufficiently recovered from the late severe beating to leave Bellevue Hospital. The wounds are said to be entirely healed, and New York is sane again.

A [illegible] N. S., dispatch says [illegible] report [illegible] meeting held at [illegible] [illegible] county, a [illegible] [illegible] that the Confederation is [illegible] [illegible] to [illegible] for annexation to the United States.

EDUCATIONAL.

We have deferred a notice of the Annual Report of Hon. Warren Johnson, State Superintendent of Schools, till a favorable opportunity should allow us to do justice to one of the most important subjects now before the Legislature, and one in which there is a loud call for reforms. Mr Johnson's Report is so thorough a review of the whole system in this State that all who are interested in educational matters should read it. We can even now scarcely more than skim over the surface and make a few suggestions as they occur in passing. With all that Mr Johnson recommends and denounces we may not agree, but generally speaking his counsel is safe and certainly the adoption of his ideas would place our school system much above its present character.

The Superintendent divides his Report into 1 Comparative and General Statistics, 2 Analysis of Statistical Tables, 3 Review of School Work for 1869, 4 Defects in our Public Education, and Remedies. Of the 408 towns in the State 3[illegible] made school returns. The whole number of scholars between 4 and 21 is 226 143, the percentage of average attendance to which is [illegible]. Average length of schools for the year, 18 weeks, five days. Only about half the school houses in the State are in good condition. The number built last year was 121, at a cost of $17[illegible] 904. The number of male teachers employed is 2,065; female teachers 6,2[illegible]. Average wages for male teachers per month $30 44, female teachers per week $3,04—exclusive of board in both cases. The amount of school money voted was $792 815, excess above amount required by law, $89 698. The aggregate amount expended for schools is $1 0[illegible] 106, the amount of school fund $277 170.

The statistics by counties are very full and deserve careful attention. These tables are followed by an analysis showing that last year there was an increase of scholars throughout the State of nearly one thousand. For the eight years previous there had been a constant decrease, which from [illegible] to [illegible] aggregated eighteen thousand. The Superintendent puts in here a suggestion that concerns other State interests than that of education, when he states that our people must see to it that a portion of the yearly emigration is arrested on the way to the West, that we may add to the growth of our own State in every respect.

The Report says:

"The amount raised in 1869, per scholar is $2 93, amount raised in 1868 [illegible]. Percentage of increase in working capital 10[illegible] increase in average attendance 0[illegible]. The increase of product therefore based on average attendance alone has not kept pace with the increase of money voted. We still need therefore, better instruction, better supervision, and increased parental interest, to attract or compel a better attendance. The improving attendance, however of the past year compared with preceding years is an agreeable indication in the right direction."

A comparative table of average teachers monthly wages in a dozen States shows that Maine pays much less than any other State. While Maine pays male teachers an average of $30 44 the next lowest State (Minnesota) pays $34,61, and the average of other States ranges from that to $96 00 (New Jersey).—Female teachers in Maine average $12 1[illegible] while the lowest State beside is Michigan, $19,48, and the highest average is California $94.00.

The Superintendent deplores the increase of school houses and school districts except in new settlements. He recommends that some means be devised for supplying the deficiency in the school fund on account of the loss of the bank tax and land sales. Other States have supplied this loss by diverting to school uses, licenses, fines, taxes on domestic animals, passenger traffic, &c.

The Report embodies a long list of extracts from town reports the most frequent recommendations being to abolish the school district system, employment of teachers by competent committees instead of district agents, uniformity of text books and compulsory attendance.

The Normal schools are highly spoken of as among the first agents to a perfect educational system. Messrs C C Rounds of the Western Normal School and G T Fletcher of the Eastern Normal School, present their reports. More careful attention by the State is needed to make these institutions all they should be.

County Supervision is reviewed at length. The system has been remarkably successful in correcting evils and laying the foundation for improvement. The appointments for these valuable offices we believe were remarkably judicious, and all the Supervisors have worked with zeal and faithfulness. Their reports are given at length and will form valuable aids to the Legislature in passing upon the propositions to come before them. We make extracts from the Report of Supervisor Plummer of Penobscot County, as follows:

* * * * "I decided to make my influence felt first where it would naturally be most needed. Accordingly my summer's work has been mainly confined to the more sparsely populated and inaccessible towns. One hundred and twenty-eight schools have been visited, four local institutes and ten teachers conventions have been held and ten public addresses have been given in different central places. The attention of school officers and teachers has been called to important matters through the newspapers and by official circulars, and in many instances suggestions thus made are known to have been acted upon. * * * The location of the Normal Schools is such that their influence is not so strongly felt in this as in some other counties but the few teachers they have sent here without exception, attest their good works and operate as good leaven in the great mass of toiling teachers of the county. The regular institutes were fairly attended and I am sure a powerful influence for the good of our schools has gone out from them. All who have witnessed their workings attest their value as an educational agency. Committees of towns where the teachers were required to attend, have assured me that their teaching has thereby been improved 25 per cent., and I have myself observed very marked exhibits of their worth in revolutionized and improved instruction in schools. * * * * * * *

"Suggestions and Recommendations.—I would have State uniformity in text books because town uniformity, which at best is more expensive, is for that very reason perhaps not realized, and nobody denies that a proper classification of our schools demands the one as the other. I would have a reduction of the number of districts through union or what is better, the abolishment of the district system, and the establishment of the town, because it will apply the cost of the superfluous to the necessary schools, thus securing longer schools better paid teachers, better school houses, and greater uniformity in school privileges. I would have teachers employed by the men who examined them, and examined before they are employed, and our market for skillful teachers made as good as any, so that they will not be drawn away from us by the magnet—money. I would have a good blackboard in every school room, also a dictionary, because the one is in my judgment as indispensable as seats, and the other as necessary as a teacher. I would have power given somebody to see that the public schools are not neglected by any, so that the State would not be, as it now is, cheated out of nearly half the fruits of its generous expenditure, and have its own existence and perpetuity put in jeopardy by parental heedlessness and avarice."

These suggestions of Mr Plummer are concurred in by nearly all the Supervisors, and Mr Johnson closes his Report with a brief digest of recommendations for school legislation, as follows:

"First.—The transfer of the power to employ teachers from the district agents to the Superintending School Committee. See suggestion of S. S. C., pp. 66 to 78, etc., also p. 144 and in the appendix.

"Second.—The establishment of [illegible] uniformity of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] will save at least [illegible] to the people [illegible] that of Massachusetts will cover the object desired.

"Fourth.—Legislation, securing and compelling a better attendance of scholars. See p. 160.

"Fifth.—An extension of the power to examine and certificate teachers to State Superintendent, County Supervisors and the Conductors of County Institutes. This power is now entirely limited to the S. S. C.—Certificates thus issued and Normal School Diplomas, shall be valid only with the endorsement of the S. S. C., and teachers holding the same shall be liable to an examination at the option of Superintending School Committee.

Sixth.—General act enabling towns and cities to purchase books.

"Seventh.—Act empowering the Selectmen to take the annual census of scholars, instead of District Agents.

Eighth.—To amend chap. 276, resolves 1868 authorizing the Governor and Council to determine number of clerks to be employed by the Adjutant General, Secretary of State and State Treasurer," and "Land Agent," as amended 1869, so as to embrace the [illegible] of State Superintendent."

LETTER FROM TEXAS

GALVESTON, Texas,
Saturday Jan 22, 1870.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

I arrived in this city, from New Orleans on Wednesday last—just five weeks from home—having come via New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Chicago to St. Louis, in each of which place I made short sojourns.

At St Louis I staid two days waiting for a boat to New Orleans. Business seemed quite dull and the chief topic for discussion at the hotels was Congressional protection to American industry. they had lately had a lecture there against the principle of protection, and I judge the large majority of the resident population to be of that opinion, although they seemed willing to hear both sides of the question and had invited a gentleman from Ohio to present the subject affirmatively.

I left on the steamer W. R. Arthur the 6th of January and arrived at New Orleans the morning of the 17th. From St Louis to Cairo the river was full of floating ice which made navigation so dangerous that the boat lay up during every night to resume the trip in the morning. We were not troubled in this way from Cairo down for after passing the mouth of the Ohio River the water was entirely free from ice.

The first excitement among the passengers after leaving St Louis was the rush of every one on deck when it was announced that we were passing the wreck of the steamer Stonewall which burned causing such a terrible loss of life but a few months ago. The boilers and most of the machinery had been removed but the smoke stack and hull of the steamer lay there only about fifty yards from shore to mark the spot where some two hundred human lives were extinguished in the grasp of the two mad and destructive elements the flames and flood.

The Arthur is a fine boat and we had quite a full passenger list, including many ladies. With music occasionally a dance, chess and the innocent games at cards, together with viewing the country as we pass along, particularly the points of historic interest, such as Columbus, Belmont, New Madrid, Island 10, Fort Pillow, Memphis, Vicksburg, Grand Gulf, Natchez, Port Hudson, Baton Rouge, &c. the voyage was altogether a pleasant trip. The fare from St Louis to New Orleans is $30 by rail or steamer. By rail the trip can be made in two days while we were eleven by boat but the boat has to feed its passengers be the trip long or short. Hence if a person's object is to see the most and kill the greatest length of time for the same money, the river route offers the best facilities and is I think the pleasantest.

At New Orleans I spent one day. The Louisiana Legislature is in session at Mechanics Institute, the scene of the New Orleans massacre under [illegible] when I was here three years ago last August. There is of course a great deal of odium cast upon this body as there is and will be in the South at anything of the kind which contains negroes. Much is said about the election of a negro to the U. S. Senate from Mississippi and in this connection many references are made to the party of great moral ideas. But there would seem to be difficulties in the way of Mr Revels (the Senator in question) getting into the Senate inasmuch as he is elected to succeed the unexpired term of Sharkey, who was elected under the reconstruction of Johnson and Congress having declared said reconstruction null and void, it is not clear that there is an unexpired term to serve.

In the evening, in company with Major Simpson formerly of Bangor and who is now doing a large business in the sale of lumber at No. [illegible] New Basin, N. O., I attended the St Charles Theatre to witness the performance of Sinbad the Sailor by Lydia Thompson. I have nothing to say in praise of the performance.

Tuesday the 18th inst at 7 30 a. m. I left New Orleans via N. O. & Opelousas Railroad for Brashear City, there to connect with the Morgan line of steamers for Galveston and went aboard steamer Josephine at the latter place at noon, and were soon off down the (Berwick) bay and out upon the Gulf of Mexico. The railroad between New Orleans and Berwick Bay or Brashear City is 80 miles of the completed portion of the N. O. & Texas rail which is to connect New Orleans and Houston, Texas.

The steamers between Berwick and Galveston are said to be very fine vessels. I know that they make good speed. They are built to carry passengers—and the mails (U. S.) and are built very narrow. I shall always insist, however, that one principle in their construction is wrong, and that is making the length of the berths crossways the ship. To be inverted from head up and feet down to feet up and head down twice a minute for eight mortal hours (the time I tried to sleep) may be pleasant to some people, but it is not so to me.

Well, we moved up to the wharf at Galveston at 8.30 a. m., Wednesday and I walked up town to look for "familiar faces."

It has been three and a half years since I left here for the North, and notwithstanding the ravages of yellow fever, the inundation of the island and city two years ago, the recent serious fire, which consumed, some say, three millions of property, and in this category, most every Democrat would add the presence of free "niggers" and military government, still I find the city has prospered and very materially enlarged, and extended its limits, it has built a city (mule) railroad since then, by which a person can travel to any part of the city for five cents.

I wrote, a few lines back, that "most every Democrat would class military government among the afflictions of this city and State," and yet some of the bitterest rebels with whom I have conversed, men of wealth and intelligence, protest that this military government is the best they ever had. They have comparatively no taxes to pay, and even if Texas were taxed for the support of the U. S. troops within the State, it would still be the cheapest government we could have.—Besides it prevents all wrangling for office and leaves the people at liberty to attend to their own affairs. This is, almost verbatim the language of one of the wealthiest men in Galveston.

There is little said of local politics and I think a man is safe here to express any opinion that may please himself.

I was passing the Court House the other day, and hearing some words individual letting [illegible] [illegible] in as one whose was [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] names of Gen. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] negro, having [illegible] generally known as "John the Baptist," on trial before the Court under an indictment by the Grand Jury, charging the theft of a pair of "pants" from the gallery of a house in this city. It was quite well proven by the negro testimony that John the Baptist had stolen a pair of "britches" from the said gallery, and what I heard from the street that caused me to go in where I heard the plea concluded was an ex Major of the rebel army using any amount of gas and considerable physical exertion to convince a jury that the word "pants" in the indictment had an entirely different signification from the word 'britches,' used in the testimony, indeed, the astute Major thought it extremely stupid of any one to suppose that britches" (or breeches could) mean the same as "pants" and he got behind "Webster's unabridged" and declared that "pant" was to breathe quick, (as he was doing,) and "pants" was the plural of pant, and he had something to say about "stockings" that if John the Baptist had stolen a pair of britches as alleged, of course there was a pair of stockings" in the case and so on. Finally, he said that if they must find the prisoner guilty of stealing pants that it was only a common theft the penalty for which was confinement in the County Jail and not theft from a house which was a penitentiary offence as a gallery was not part of a house. The Judge charged that pants and 'breeches' in common acceptation were synonymous terms, that stealing from a gallery was the same as from a house, and that the punishment for theft from a house was not less than two, nor more than five years in the State Penitentiary. The jury found John the Baptist guilty and he is to have his head shaved and serve the State two years at Huntsville.

It has always been said in this State that for stealing a horse a man would be hung and that for killing another man he would be sent to the Legislature. The case I have related and one I have witnessed in the same Court [illegible] [illegible] illustrations [illegible] principles are needed—and they [illegible] show how white men can and [illegible] of the Courts in this country [illegible] [illegible] rule to suit their own purposes.

Last Friday there was a case before the Court which drew large numbers there [illegible] [illegible] I heard it said [illegible] [illegible] in the case. I was curious and so I went and this is what I saw and heard. By the Court was Maj A S [illegible] charged with the murder in August last of Austin Barnes a negro. And the facts as elicited by the parties are these. Maj [illegible] lives [illegible] miles from this city on a small farm and at the time of the murder as stated [illegible] hired in the cultivation of the place [illegible] negro known as Uncle Dick and his wife Sally. Uncle Dick furnished the team for cultivating the place, two horses. On Sunday in August last Uncle Dick [illegible] Austin Barnes came to this city with horses and returned in the afternoon. It was brought Barnes went to [illegible] under the influence of liquor and insisted on having a horse to ride. Dick refused him [illegible] to the city that night. Uncle Dick did not want Barnes to have the horse but he would go and get it up to town. [illegible] stable leaving Barnes with Sally in the kitchen. [illegible] was [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] went to the kitchen [illegible] [illegible] place. Barnes refused to go and he several times ordered him to leave the premises so he would shoot him. Barnes still refusing to leave, [illegible] went to his house and returned with a double barrel shot gun to the kitchen which was some distance from the house and again told Barnes to leave or he would shoot him. Barnes said shoot and be damned. All this time Dick remained at the stable. Barnes was in the kitchen still. Sally had got frightened and gone to another house and [illegible] was at the kitchen door. When Barnes said shoot and be damned [illegible] pulled the trigger and Barnes was killed. [illegible] is an old gray headed [illegible] and is said to have lived a peaceable and exemplary life. What Barnes had served several terms in the County Jail. It was [illegible] by the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to punish [illegible] man for the purpose of making him better and especially for an example of him for the benefit of county. The jury found the prisoner not guilty and he was discharged.

These are the facts in this case and [illegible] may comment as suit themselves. For myself I can see no great danger to society in the verdict of the jury—which, by the way was as intelligent a jury as could be found in this city—and should be glad to know that it would have been the same (which I seriously doubt) had [illegible] been [illegible] and Barnes a white man. Sinon.

THE END OF THE WYBE CHILDREN MYSTERY—A Sad Scene. We give below further particulars of the finding of the Wybe children:

It seems that one of the hunting parties had in its search been at the top of the mountain overlooking the very spot where the children were found but for some reason had not descended to search at the [illegible]. When found the youngest boy, who was about five years old, was on his face covered with his eldest brother's coat and a pile of leaves scraped together. Next and parallel to him lay the second, seven years old, his head at the younger one's feet and two feet away, almost denuded of his clothing (which it is supposed in the delirium which preceded his death he tore from him) lay the elder brother. The lower part of his face, one cheek and both his hands eaten away. Near the bodies was the pail they had taken to gather nuts in. The body of the middle one was not disfigured but that of the younger was almost entirely gone between the chest and thighs probably a prey to the weasels and wildcats. Words cannot truly picture the unspeakable pity which this recital must call up in the heart of every reader."

DESTITUTION IN ALASKA. Letters from San Francisco show that there is considerable destitution in Alaska. The Mayor of Sitka applied to General Davis for relief, representing that some of the Russians were in a needy condition and that the city government was unable to give them necessary aid or relief. General Davis thereupon ordered an investigation into the matter, and directed the post commandant to issue rations in a limited quantity from government stores to the sufferers during the winter, taking measures to aid them in getting work.

The Governor General of Canada has refused the application for the commutation of the sentence of John A. Munroe, and he will therefore be executed on the 15th of this month.

Consumption.

The Three Remedies "SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP" for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and every form of Consumption. The peculiar action of this medicine ripens the ulcers in the lungs, promotes the discharge of the corrupt matter by expectoration, purifies the blood, and thus cures Consumption, when every other remedy fails.

"SCHENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC" for the cure of Dyspepsia or Indigestion, and all diseases arising from debility. This tonic invigorates the digestive organs, supplies the place of the gastric juice when that is deficient and then enables the patient to digest the most nutritious food. It is a sovereign remedy for all cases of indigestion.

"SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS," one of the most valuable medicines ever discovered being a vegetable substitute for calomel and having all the useful properties ascribed to the mineral, without producing any of its injurious effects.

To these three medicines Dr J H Schenck, of Philadelphia owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of Pulmonic Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter, discharges it, and purifies the blood. The Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, remove all obstructions therefrom, give the organs a healthy tone and cure Liver Complaint which is one of the most prominent causes of consumption. The Sea Weed Tonic invigorates the powers of the stomach and by strengthening the digestion and bringing it to a normal and healthy condition improves the quality of the blood, by which means the formation of ulcers or tubercles in the lungs becomes impossible. The combined action of these medicines as thus explained will cure every case of Consumption, if the remedies are used in time and the use of them is persevered in sufficiently to bring the case to a favorable termination.

Dr Schenck's Almanac containing a full treatise on the various forms of disease, his mode of treatment and general directions how to use his medicines, can be had gratis or sent by mail by addressing his Principal Office, No 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic each $1 50 per bottle or $7 50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

DR. L. T. WASGATT, Surgeon Dentist,

Has purchased an apparatus for producing local anaesthesia by the vapor of ether, invented by the celebrated Dr B W RICHARDSON, of London.

By using this instrument the patient gets rid of the dread of tasting ether for the spray is only applied to the teeth and gums and does not affect the patient in the least. Dr WASGATT has been using the ether spray for the past few weeks with marked success, extracting six to eight teeth at one sitting and his patients say they never will take ether when they can get the ether spray applied to the gums.

The President yesterday issued a proclamation announcing the ratification of the additional treaty with China, and communicating its provisions. The first article provides that in making concessions to citizens or subjects of foreign powers, of the privilege of residing on certain tracts of land, or resorting to certain waters of the Empire of China, the Emperor by no means relinquishes his right of eminent domain He agrees that no such concession shall be construed to give to any power or party which may be at war or hostile to the United States the right to attack the citizens of the United States in their property within said lands and waters. It is also agreed that the United States shall abstain from attacking offensively the citizens or subjects of any foreign power with whom they may be at war, and the right of jurisdiction of the Chinese Government over persons and property is retained, except so far as their right may have been expressly relinquished by the treaty

Article 2d provides that any privilege or immunity in respect to trade or navigation within the Chinese dominion which may not have been stipulated for by the treaty shall be subject to the discretion of the Chinese Government.

Article 3d authorizes the Emperor of China to appoint Consuls at United States ports, who shall enjoy the immunities and privileges of the Consuls of Great Britain and Russia.

Article 4th guarantees certain liberty of conscience to American citizens in China and to citizens of China in America, and exempts them from all disability or prosecution on account of religious faith or worship in either country, and provides that cemeteries for the dead shall be held in respect and free from disturbance and profanations.

Article 5th provides for the absolute freedom of emigration and the emigrants of citizens of both countries and that the taking of citizens of either country to the other without their free and voluntary consent, shall be made a penal offence

Article 6th guarantees to citizens of the United States visiting or residing in China the same privileges and immunities or exemptions in respect to the travel or residence as may there be enjoyed by citizens or subjects of the most favored nations, and the reciprocal privileges to the citizens of China and the United States, but this stipulation is not to be construed in either the naturalization

Article 7th provides for the reciprocal enjoyment by citizens of the two countries of the public and educational institutions, and the control of either which are enjoyed in the respective countries by the subjects of the most favored nations It also gives the privilege of establishing and maintaining schools within the Empire of China at those places where foreigners are by treaty permitted to reside, and Chinese citizens are to enjoy the same privileges and immunities in the United States

Article 8th The United States always disclaiming and discouraging all practices of unnecessary dictation and intervention by one nation in the affairs and domestic administration of another, do hereby freely disclaim and disavow any intention or right to intervene in the domestic administration of China in regard to the construction of railroads, telegraph, or other material internal improvements On the other hand, His Majesty, the Emperor of China, reserves to himself the right to decide the time and manner and circumstances of introducing such improvements within his dominions With this mutual understanding, it is agreed by the contracting parties that if at any time hereafter His Imperial Majesty shall construct, or cause to be constructed, works of this character within the Empire, and shall make application to the United States or any other Western Power, for facilities to carry out that policy, the United States will, in that case, designate and authorize suitable engineers to be employed by the Chinese Government, and will recommend to other nations an equal compliance with such application, the Chinese Government in that case protecting such engineers in their person and property and paying them a reasonable compensation for their services.

—The Rockland Press says "It is claimed that the report set afloat by a correspondent of some paper, that the Bowdoinham Bank robbers attempted to escape by corrupting a subordinate officer, that Warden Rice discovered and defeated their plans, that the foiled prisoners were greatly offended and that the Warden is constantly on his guard for fear one of them will take his life, is a baseless and unfounded fabrication from beginning to end. No such plan has ever been discovered or defeated, and the Warden feels as much security among the prisoners as ever before The Bowdoinham Bank robbers are shrewd enough to know that the murder of Warden Rice added to their other crimes would not tend to better their condition, but would bring them a halter"

POETRY.

THE MODERN BELLE.

The daughter sits in the parlor,
And rocks in languishing chair;
She's clad in the extremest fashion,
And jewels are in her hair—
She [illegible]
And [illegible]
'Tis vastly more than she thinkes.

Her father can [illegible] her wants,
And richer [illegible] than—
His cents are all cut at the elbow,
His vest is a most shocking bad hat
He's [illegible]
He dresses [illegible]
While she, she [illegible] poodles,
Is throwing them all away

She lies abed in the morning,
Till nearly the hour of noon,
Then comes down, vampires and snarling
Because she was called too soon.
Her hair is still in papers,
Her cheeks still fortified with paint,
Remains of last night's blushes,
Before she intended to faint.

She dotes upon men mustaches,
And sighs with the flowing hair,
She's eloquent over moustaches,
They give such a foreign air
She talks of Italian music,
And falls in love with the moon,
And though but a mouse should meet her
She sinks away in a swoon.

Her feet are so very little,
Her hands are so very white,
Her jewels so very heavy,
And her head so very light,
Her color is made of cosmetics,
Though this she will never own,
Her body is made mostly of cotton,
Her heart is made wholly of stone

She falls in love with a fellow
Who swells with a foreign air,
He marries her for her money,
She marries him for his hair,
One of the very best matches—
Both are well mated for life,
She's got a fool for her husband,
He's got a fool for his wife.

MISCELLANY.

AN AFFECTIONATE PUG. A few years since, I passed the summer with some friends in Michigan. Soon after my arrival I noticed in the yard a pretty little pug. He was about as large a cat, very clean and white, so that I was quite attracted to him, and would often stand at the door and watch him.

One day, as he came and lay down near me, I took up a stick, and scratched his back, and from that moment his attentions to me were most amusing. The moment I appeared in the doorway, he would run towards me, by every method known to him, to repeat the process. This favor he never expected or asked of any one else, distinguishing me from all the others, instantly, and in any disguise of dress.

He followed me about the premises like a little dog, and in spite of my natural antipathy to the race. I was compelled to accept him for a companion. There was one window at which I often sat with my sewing. Piggie found me out there and would always come round that way, lingering, and grunting and wanting to be recognized.

When I condescended to look at him he would tip his head on one side, and turn up his eyes at me, in a most comical, languishing and loverlike way. His extraordinary attentions made a great deal of fun for the family.

I remember one day my admirer was passing the front door, which stood open, when he espied me in the back part of the dining room. In the most eager and delighted manner he came racing through the hall, and frisked about me in a way that displayed as much intelligence and affection as a dog would show.

In the yard was a trough for the cow, and a little basin for piggie.

One day I found him on the step, squealing at the top of his voice, and in a very excited condition. When he saw me, he led the way to his little basin and there was the cow, stealing his dinner. Of course I drove her away, when he instantly subsided, and, with a satisfied grunt, ate what remained in the basin.

He was so well satisfied with the enclosure that constituted his home, that he never availed himself of the space under the gate, which was sufficiently large to admit of his egress, except he espied me going up street when he was sure to follow.

I shall never forget one fine Sunday morning, when, dressed in my best, I was walking out to church, piggie came chasing after me, frisking about my heels like a playful little dog. Fearing that he might not respect the sanctity of the church, and that his good natured grunts might not harmonize with the choir, I was compelled to forego the pleasure of the service, and take my follower home. Little did he care where I led, so that he might follow.

These were certainly "winning ways," and undeniable evidences of intelligence and affection.

Now, I think these qualities of the pig can be neither fried, salted down, nor smoked

MR. PEABODY'S RESTING PLACE. Harmony Grove, the spot selected by George Peabody for his burial, is says Appleton's Journal, a beautifully-wooded, rising ground, situated upon the north-western boundary of Salem, in Massachusetts, and itself bordering upon the line of the town now called Peabody. Upon the principal street of the latter lately the South Danvers of his early life, the visitor still sees the house, with its small shop front, in which, as the boy of a village store many of the youthful days of the great philanthropist were spent. The little window of its narrow attic is that of his bedroom. From its elevation above the street doubtless he often looked out upon the rich landscape, which, 'in all the country round,' identifies ancient Danvers as one of the most beautiful of the New England towns. Among its features nearest Salem, with which he was familiar, perhaps the leafy shades of the ridge, now known as Harmony Grove, may have been prominent. In his day, it was a charming resort for a leisure or a playful hour. Like many another similar locality, however, in the neighborhood of the older Massachusetts towns, the play-ground of the holiday has become the quiet tasteful resting-place of the dead.

AN ADROIT SWINDLER. About two years ago a young man named William Travis was favorably introduced into business circles at Kingston, N Y, as the heir apparent to an immense fortune. He dressed and lived in style drove fine horses, boarded expensively attended church regularly, and displayed every token of being an exemplary young man. His modest appearance, unexceptionable deportment and winning ways secured the favorable regard of everybody. He was liberal and charitable. On one occasion, when dissatisfied with the arrangements that had been made for the burial of an elderly lady, he rejected the plain coffin and appurtenances that had been provided, and ordered one of a more elegant style, and carriages, &c., for the funeral, and had the bills thereof charged to himself. In short, he appeared to be in all respects a nice young man. A few days ago he suddenly disappeared. It then transpired that he had been living all this time and making all the display on borrowed money, loaned to him on the strength of his 'great expectations,' in some $18,000. To complete the deception Travis recently complained of ill health, made a will and bequeathed large sums of money to the victims who had kindly loaned him funds. Other parties are supposed to have been victimized, including several hopeful young ladies, who fancied that Travis was to pop the question in due time. Detectives are upon the absconder's track.

SOUTH DEERING, Me

In May 1868 our agent met with Deacon Thomas Hodgkins of South Deering Me who related the following astonishing instance of affection by Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. He said: Some time ago my son was taken sick with a serious lung difficulty which threatened to result in quick consumption. We immediately summoned our family physician who attended him faithfully for about four weeks during which time he gradually grew weaker. He took very much alarmed about the case and thought that he was growing worse all the time. He then refused to take any more medicine from the physician and expressed a wish to try Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. I immediately told the physician of my son's feeling that he would object to his using it but he did not. He said Let him try it it won't hurt him and may do him some good.

He did try it and to the astonishment of the physician and family he commenced gaining rapidly. Very soon he began to improve gradually gaining strength until at last we felt satisfied that he was entirely free from all disease. He is now living and is a well man.

My son is alive and well to-day, possessing a strong and vigorous constitution which I attribute entirely under God to the use of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. I do further say that I have used it in my family for all kinds of pain and have found it a perfect panacea for all diseases for which it is recommended.

CHRONIC DIARRHŒA.

The following statement of William Clark, Esq., worthy of great credit having come to us fully attested and sworn to, without any solicitation on our part except that we knew such a thing was in contemplation —

MR I S JOHNSON Dear Sir,—I was attacked with the diarrhœa in the year 1848 and tried all of the various remedies that was recommended to me for that complaint but they had no effect whatever I then applied to different doctors both in this State and Massachusetts They could not help me I was reduced to a most a skeleton, and through the persuasion of friends I was told of your Anodyne Liniment I commenced taking it in the [illegible] and found it helped me, so I continued the use of it until I had taken nine bottles I was perfectly cured, and over fifty pounds heavier than last summer I gave you these lines that you might publish them if you see fit, for the benefit of the suffering community I think it one of the greatest medicines that the world affords If any one should think this a humbug, please inquire of my neighbors here there are plenty that will testify to the truth of this case I purchased the Liniment of Mr A Merrill of this place The undersigned would refer to any that he thinks the Liniment was the best of any, through the blessing of God, of saving my life I weighed in the spring of 1852 a hundred and thirty two pounds, I now weigh a hundred and eighty pounds and a half

FROM THE 'MAINE FARMER'

Parson's Purgative Pills are safe, wholesome cathartic, and natural medicine and may be relied upon as being the best Anti bilious medicine in existence.

Let the reader reflect that Parsons Purgative Pills are now manufactured and sold by the proprietors of Johnson's Liniment an article that has reached a larger sale and more extended popularity than any other medicine known, and any attempt on their part to build up a reputation for a worthless article would blast their reputation as compounders of medicine, and ruin their prospects both in regard to the Liniment, and everything else for which they seek the favor of the public

Acting with this view, we have been very cautious particular not to say any thing in favor of our medicines which the fact in the case do not warrant

PARSONS' PURGATIVE OR ANTI BILLIOUS PILLS

Notwithstanding the great variety of Pills now in the country, a necessity has long been felt and freely acknowledged, both by physicians and families for a safe and reliable Anti bilious Pill,—something that should be free from mercury and every mineral or deleterious substance and that really safe to administer to infants or the most delicate patient To meet this demand, Parsons Purgative Pills were compounded, every property of which has been carefully analyzed by experiment and scientific investigation Thus they are believed by physicians and people, wherever they are known, to be the safest, surest, and most desirable family pill in the country Notwithstanding they are so mild in their operation causing no griping pains, they are composed of powerful vegetable substances and will be found to be sufficiently searching and active to cleanse out the obstructions in the most robust constitution Parsons Purgative Pills also have the best effect on the Liver of any medicine yet discovered at the same time they help the Kidneys, relieve the Lungs, and cleanse the Blood of all impurities, also equalizing its circulation, thus preventing cold surface and flushes or undue heat and congestion, either inside or out It is as plain as 2 and 2 are 4 that what is required in a family Pill is one that will reach with effect to produce proper operation, and of all the natural drams Parsons Purgative Pills will do this with promptness and fidelity, and no physician's prescription could do more Many people suppose that the Bible declares money to be the root of all evil, but it is not so—it is the love of it which is spoken of But don't love your money so as to keep you from buying a box of Parsons Purgative Pills when, by so doing you may avert much pain and lingering distress and perhaps save a life Our advice is to keep them constantly on hand as you may by their use break up fevers or crop in the bud those symptoms which might otherwise run into long and weary sickness

CONDITION

FOR

Horses, Cattle and Sheep.

These Powders should be given in all cases of Loss of Appetite, Roughness of the Hair, Staring Coat, Colic or Water or thick Water all Coughs Colds, Swelling of the Glands of the Throat, Worms, Heaves, All, Hide Bound, Thick Wind, and Liver Complaint are equally good for Diseases of Horses Cattle and Sheep

VALUABLE TESTIMONY

IN FAVOR OF SHERIDAN'S CAVALRY CONDITION POWDERS

We regard the following as the most valuable testimony which we have to produce to show the merits of our Powders over all others, and the benefit of giving them freely to horses that labor severely —

DEAR SIR

Our travelling agent calls upon Messrs Pope & Co lumber merchants, Machias, Maine, and tried to sell them some of our Sheridan's Horse Powders, but they refused to buy them, stating, that they did not believe that they were any good, secondly, that they had some of an inferior kind on hand, which they could not afford to sell on account of their worthlessness Our agent left it important that they should have them to sell, as they employed a large number of lumbermen, proposed to leave them three months with the understanding that they should pay for them The Messrs Pope & Co refused the proposition, and took the Powder In two months after, our agent again visited them, and they cheerfully paid for the three (3) packages, and bought two (2) dozen others in December following just twelve months from leaving the first three (3) dozen Since then in the Provinces, our agent sold them eight dozen more, making SIXTEEN (16) dozen sold in this town, in just one year We think our class of horses, for extremely rough roads are one more widely and favorably known, and more than would be more advantage to us in point of influence be

AN HONEST FOUNDER CONVINCED

In February, 1866, our agent called upon Mr Charles Sager, who keeps the largest and best of Livery Stables of Portland Me and tried to sell him a sample dozen of our Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, but the captain refused to buy and would not even try them with the notion to pay or not, [illegible] remarking that he could make a Condition Powder himself that would answer his purpose [illegible] had some of another kind on hand that he used occasionally So our agent left the Powders, contenting himself with putting on a poster in his office and giving [illegible] of the Powders and directions for use Capt Sager went to the City Hotel Stables and, without solicitation, bought a few of the Cavalry Powders and told the [illegible] in his name, in any way that would lend their kind of usefulness

All who know Capt Sager, and have had dealings with him will unite with us in saying that he is one of the most candid, reliable and gentlemanly men in the State of Maine and his opinion is as much as well as on other subjects in any way connected with horses is entitled to great consideration

WHAT THEY ARE FOR

Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders are to be given to horses in all cases for loss of Appetite, Roughness of the Hair, Staring Coat, Colic or Thick Water, all Coughs and Colds, Sore Throat, Worms, Horse Ail, Hide Bound, Thick Wind and Heaves They are equally good in all cases of horned cattle and sheep, young horses fitting for market may be greatly improved and very much enhanced in value, by the use of the powders

Old horses almost worn out and apparently worthless, may be rejuvenated, and made to do a reasonable amount of service, by the use of Sheridan's Condition Powders Most horses are troubled with worms, and, while they exist in a horse he cannot thrive the food that should strengthen and nourish the animal is absorbed by the worms and consequently the horse will have a great appetite and grow poor

SYMPTOMS —Hide bound, coat staring or dull and glaring, great appetite, &c Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders will positively relieve these worst cases

FROM THE HON JOSEPH FARWELL MAYOR OF THE CITY OF ROCKLAND ME

In July, 1865, our agent met with the Hon Farwell at the Eastern Hotel, Machias Me on his way to Pembroke He remarked that he was not well during the day, and had no signs of giving out In the evening he was much worse, and showed symptoms of hydrophobia a page of water; our agent gave Mr Farwell a package of our Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders He gave the horse a good dose that night and the next morning he departed with his horse quite well We heard no more of the matter till the following May, when our agent met Mr Farwell at his home in the city of Rockland Me We marked that the Powders he had given [illegible] horse a great deal of good, that he had used them frequently since, and always with great results, and that he regarded them as the best Condition Powders in the country, and very kind indeed if his name would be of any service to us in any way use it. Mr. Farwell's address is Rockland Me and for a verification of the foregoing statement of facts any person is at liberty to write him
